The Robin Redbreast. (Erithacus rubecula), one of the most popular of the native British birds, measures about 5½ inches in length. It's keen black eyes and ruddy chest are characteristic, and make it easy recognisable. The nest, well constructed and lined, is often built in most extraordinary positions, and contains from five to seven eggs of a yellowish white tint spotted with brown.

On Saturday we had great fun. The nice ice children came down. P.D. and I played with them in the afternoon. First we played games. Then we had tea. Then we played games, and had a bonfire and sang God Save the King. Then we heard the guns go off. Then we cheered. Then they had to go. In the evening saw fireworks over London. The Harts had people in, awful noise. Philis stayed for the week end. Reginald came down on Sunday. On Sunday we went to the Merchants, a Cordain was there (Rolly) Enid, Philis and the cousin sang and played. EKT and BT went down to Eton on Thursday with Mummy.
